President's Message

Afshin E. Razi, MD

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Welcome to the 113th Annual Meeting of the Clinical Orthopaedic Society, a legacy voyage anchored in tradition, now setting sail toward the future.

As I reflect on the legacy of COS, founded in 1912 as the very first clinical orthopaedic society, I'm both humbled and inspired by how far we've come. What began as a vision by a handful of passionate surgeons has now evolved into a growing, inclusive community of over 750 members, 950 abstract submissions, and more than 50 faculty sharing their knowledge at this year's meeting. But COS isn't just about numbers. It's about purpose. It's about people.

Over the past two years, we've breathed new life into this historic society, restoring its voice, rekindling its spirit, and re-imagining its future. This year's theme, "Orthopaedic Renaissance: Continuing the Vision," is a call to reconnect with our roots while embracing the innovations and challenges shaping modern orthopaedic care. It's about carrying forward the values of mentorship, hands-on learning, and clinical excellence, while inviting the next generation to help lead.

This past year, we've made remarkable strides:

- We revised the COS Bylaws, the first update in more than two decades, modernizing our structure for the years ahead.
- We launched a partnership with the AOA's Own the Bone program to promote osteoporosis education and awareness.
- We strengthened our academic collaboration with the Journal of Surgical Orthopaedic Advances (JSOA), encouraging scholarly publication from our presenters.
- We initiated exciting new collaborations with The Codman Group and OrthoAccess to enrich medical student education and engagement.

This meeting reflects that mission. From sunrise yoga to late-night mixers, from hands-on pinning competitions to expert panel debates, every session is designed to educate, inspire, and connect. And for the first time ever, we've extended our program through Saturday afternoon, with a celebratory "Bone Voyage" Beach Finale Saturday evening that we hope you and your families won't miss.

Speaking of families; bring them. COS is not just a meeting; it's a community. With daily family breakfasts, VIP beach day, pickleball tournaments, and a river cruise, this is your chance to grow professionally while making memories with the ones you love.

Whether you're a seasoned surgeon, a first-year resident, or a curious medical student, there's something here for you. There's a place for you at COS.

We are not just restoring the legacy of COS, we're shaping what it will become for the next 100 years. And that starts with you. Let's celebrate our past, embrace the present, and build a future worthy of our profession and those we serve.

See you in Amelia Island!

Afshin E. Razi, MD
President, Clinical Orthopaedic Society

Incoming President

Marlene DeMaio, MD, EdD, CAPT, Medical Corps, U.S. Navy (Ret.)

Dr. Marlene DeMaio is a board-certified orthopaedic surgeon specializing in sports medicine, with a distinguished career in military, academic, and clinical leadership. As honors graduate of Brown University and Hahnemann Medical College (now Drexel), she completed her orthopaedic surgery residency at Yale-New Haven Hospital and a Sports Medicine Fellowship at the Cincinnati Sports Medicine and Orthopaedic Center. She then volunteered for active duty in the U.S. Navy, where she rose to the rank of Captain during her 20 years of service, later continuing her work in federal medicine and academics with the VA. She recently earned her Doctorate in Education from Drexel University and was named the inaugural recipient of the School of Education's Impact Award.

Dr. DeMaio has held numerous high-impact leadership roles, including President of the Ruth Jackson Orthopaedic Society and the Association of Bone and Joint Surgery, Chief of Surgery for the Expeditionary Medical Force in Kuwait, and Chief of Orthopaedics at the U.S. Naval Academy. She also served as President of the Board of Trustees for Clinical Orthopaedics and Related Research and on the editorial board of the American Journal of Sports Medicine.

Her clinical and educational contributions include co-directing an Osteoarthritis Clinic, serving as an Oral Boards Examiner, chairing multiple AOSSM education committees, and mentoring residents as a GME Site Director. In research, she has received national recognition, including the U.S. Medicine and Delta Dental Berry Award and the AOSSM Excellence in Research Award.

Since speaking at the Clinical Orthopaedic Society Annual Meeting in 2019, Dr. DeMaio has served COS as Member-at-Large and Vice President, playing a vital role in strategic planning and the revision of bylaws. She remains committed to advancing COS, improving patient care, and supporting orthopaedic surgeons through mentorship, scholarship, and leadership.

Presidential Guest Speaker Rep. Neal Dunn, MD, FACS

Dr. Neal Dunn is a board-certified urologic surgeon and a dedicated public servant representing Florida's 2nd Congressional District since 2017. With over 25 years of medical practice in Panama City, Florida, Dr. Dunn was the founding president of the Advanced Urology Institute, a 45-physician practice, and established the Bay Regional Cancer Center, focusing on advanced prostate cancer care. His commitment to healthcare extends beyond his practice; he has served on the Governor's Prostate Cancer Advisory Council and the Florida Medical Association's Board of Governors.

Before his medical career, Dr. Dunn served over a decade in the U.S. Army Medical Corps, achieving the rank of Major. He completed his medical degree at George Washington University and his residency at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, followed by a surgical fellowship at Duke University.

In Congress, Dr. Dunn brings his medical expertise to the legislative process. He serves on the House Energy and Commerce Committee, including its Subcommittees on Health, Communications and Technology, and Innovation, Data, and Commerce. Additionally, he is a member of the House Select Committee on the Chinese Communist Party and the NATO Parliamentary Assembly, contributing to discussions on national security and international relations.

Dr. Dunn's unique blend of medical and military experience informs his approach to policy, particularly in healthcare reform, veterans' affairs, and national defense.

Join us for a compelling session with Congressman Dr. Neal Dunn, as he shares his unique insights at the intersection of clinical medicine and national healthcare policy. In a 10-minute address, Dr. Dunn will explore pressing issues impacting physicians and patients alike, including Medicare reform, physician workforce challenges, healthcare innovation, and legislative priorities that affect orthopaedic and surgical care. The address will be followed by a 20-minute open-mic session featuring pre-submitted audience questions, offering a rare opportunity for direct dialogue with a Congressional leader who understands the daily realities of practicing medicine.

George W. Brindley, MD Lectureship Speaker Frederick C. Flandry, MD, FACS

Dr. Flandry graduated from Tulane University College of Arts and Sciences and earned his medical degree from Tulane University School of Medicine. He completed a flexible internship at Charity

Hospital in New Orleans and then a residency in Orthopaedic Surgery through Tulane University Affiliated Hospitals across the United States. Following his residency, he completed a fellowship in Sports Medicine and Arthroscopic Surgery at the Hughston Clinic. After entering practice, he continued his education by taking multiple sabbaticals to study Orthopaedic Traumatology at major academic centers in the United States, Canada, Germany, Switzerland, and Amsterdam.

Dr. Flandry's clinical practice focuses on Sports Medicine, treatment of fractures and musculoskeletal injuries, total joint replacement, deformity correction, amputee care, and treatment of non-healing fractures, Orthopaedic infections, and revision Orthopaedic operative procedures. Over the course of his career, he has served as team physician for numerous professional, collegiate, and high school athletic programs.

Dr. Flandry is a past president of the Southern Orthopaedic Association and the Clinical Orthopaedic Society, and has been inducted into the Georgia Southwestern Sports Hall of Fame as a team physician, honored by the Mayor of Columbus Georgia for his work for citizens with disabilities, and also honored by the government of Colombia for his teaching efforts to improve the delivery of Columbia's Orthopaedic healthcare.

His clinical practice focuses on Sports Medicine, treatment of fractures and musculoskeletal injuries, total joint replacement, deformity correction, amputee care, and treatment of non-healing fractures, Orthopaedic infections, and revision Orthopaedic operative procedures. In addition to his clinical practice, Dr. Flandry is deeply involved in the research and education efforts of the Hughston Foundation serving as the Designated Institutional Official (DIO) for the Fellowship in Sports Medicine, and the DIO and teaching faculty for the Orthopaedic Surgery Residency at Jack Hughston Memorial Hospital. He has published over thirty scientific journal articles, reviews, and textbook chapters.

Accreditation Information

CME ACCREDITATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and the Clinical Orthopaedic Society. The American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons designates this COS Annual Meeting, September 4-6, 2025 to be held in Amelia Island, FL for a maximum of 19.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

- 19.5 CME Credits for Scientific Program

CEC CREDIT

Physician Associates can receive up to 19.5 credit hours toward Continuing Education Credits. AAPA accepts American Medical Association Category 1 CME credit for the Physician's Recognition Award from organizations accredited by the ACCME.

PURPOSE

1. To provide participants with an objective, unbiased educational experience that will enable them to remain current in both the knowledge and practical elements of contemporary orthopaedic surgery.
2. To provide participants with a detailed, in-depth education of selected topics relevant to the practice of orthopaedic surgery.
3. To allow participants to assess potential deficiencies in their knowledge base pertaining to the practice of orthopaedic surgery.
4. To present ample opportunities for participants to exchange ideas with the presenters, the faculty and other enrollees through paper presentations, guest lectureships, symposia, multimedia educational sessions and poster exhibits.

OBJECTIVES

Educational objectives will be met through a combination of paper presentations, lectures and workshops in plenary, concurrent and specialty sessions with ample time afforded for open discussion. The following objectives will be addressed during the Scientific Program, such that at the conclusion of this course the attendees will be expected to:

1. Improve their diagnostic, treatment and technical skills in the management of orthopaedic afflictions by assimilation of scientific advances.
2. Discuss basic science paradigms as they relate to treatment advances.
3. Understand some of the basic principles in practice management.

Critically assess emerging trends in orthopaedic medicine and evaluate their evidence basis.

DISCLAIMER

The products, procedures and opinions presented at this meeting reflect the viewpoint or approach of the presenter only and are not to be attributed to the Clinical Orthopaedic Society. The Clinical Orthopaedic Society presents such material for informational purposes only and does not endorse any such product or the content of any such presentation.

FORMAT

The educational sessions will be held on Thursday, September 4, from 7:15 am – 5:00 pm, Friday, September 5, from 7:15 am – 3:00 pm, and Saturday, September 6, from 7:15 am – 3:00 pm.

SCIENTIFIC E-POSTER SESSIONS

Scientific E-Posters are an important feature of the COS Annual Meeting. E-Posters will be on display each day of the Scientific Program and E-Poster presenters will be available to answer questions before and after the Scientific Program sessions. Please note on the Scientific Program Schedule the designated times that the E-Poster presenters will be available for discussion.

PHYSICIAN REGISTRATION FEE

Registration covers the Scientific Program, syllabus, E-Poster sessions, daily continental breakfasts and coffee breaks, general meeting expenses, the Welcome Reception, and social events.

Dr. & Mrs. J. Elmer Nix Award Recipient Joshua Jacobs, MD

Joshua J. Jacobs, M.D. received a Bachelor of Science degree in Materials Science and Engineering from Northwestern University and graduated from the University of Illinois Medical School. Dr. Jacobs completed his residency training at the Combined Harvard Orthopaedic Residency Program followed by a fellowship in Adult Reconstructive Orthopaedic Surgery at Rush University Medical Center under the direction of Dr. Jorge Galante. Dr. Jacobs has remained at Rush since his fellowship training and served as the William A. Hark, M.D./Susanne G. Swift Professor and Chair of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery for 16 years until he recently stepped down to become the Grainger Director of the Rush Arthritis and Orthopaedics Institute.

Dr. Jacobs has published over 300 peer-reviewed manuscripts, most of which focus on the biological consequences of material degradation from joint replacement implants. He is a Multiple Principal Investigator on two large National Institutes of Health (NIH) awards including the University of Chicago/Rush University Clinical and Translational Science Award from the National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences (NCATS) and the Acute to Chronic Pain Signature (A2CPS) consortium of the NIH Common Fund's Helping End Addiction Long-term (HEAL) initiative. Dr. Jacobs has received several awards for his research and leadership including a Career Development Award from the Orthopaedic Research and Education Foundation (OREF), the Otto Aufranc Award from The Hip Society, the Ann Doner Vaughan Kappa Delta Award from the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons (AAOS), the Mark Coventry Award from the Knee Society, the Orthopaedic Research Society (ORS)/OREF Distinguished Investigator Award, the William W. Tipton, Jr. MD, Leadership Award from the AAOS and the Nicolas Andry Lifetime Achievement Award from the Association of Bone and Joint Surgeons.

Dr. Jacobs has served in leadership positions in several professional organizations related to orthopaedic surgery. He is a Past President of the AAOS, ORS, the United States Bone and Joint Decade, and The Hip Society. He served as a Director of the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgery and is a Past Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Journal of Bone and Joint Surgery. Dr. Jacobs currently serves as the President of the Board of Trustees of the OREF.

The Clinical Orthopaedic Society is honored to present the Dr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Nix Ethics Award to Dr. Joshua Jacobs. A world-renowned leader in orthopaedic research, education, and service, Dr. Jacobs exemplifies the highest standards of ethical conduct in both science and leadership. His lifelong commitment to advancing musculoskeletal care with integrity, transparency, and compassion reflects the true spirit of this award.

Lifetime Achievement and Legacy Award Recipient Raoul P. Rodriguez, MD

Raoul P. Rodriguez, MD, a native of La Habana, Cuba, came to America in 1957. His father Raoul M Rodriguez, MD, an orthopaedic surgeon, oversaw the National Institute of Orthopaedic Surgery in La Habana, Cuba. As political unrest worsened in his homeland, he transferred from the University of Habana School of Medicine to Tulane University School of Medicine. He would graduate in 1960, marry his childhood sweetheart Marina E Valhonrat, and move to Ann Arbor, Michigan for two years of general surgery training followed by three years of orthopaedic surgery at the University of Michigan. Upon completing his residency, he took a clinical faculty position in the Orthopaedic Department at Tulane and entered private practice.

He eventually assumed a full-time position in the department at Tulane as full professor. There he would be instrumental in the teaching and training of hundreds of students and residents over the years. His early career had him running the amputee clinic at New Orleans Children's Hospital, as well as, pioneering the treatment of children with osteogenesis imperfecta with a telescoping intramedullary rod. Later in his career, he would focus his attention on foot and ankle surgery. He has served as Vice-Chair and Chair of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery at Tulane University. Presently, he serves as Chairman Emeritus.

He has been an active member of many orthopaedic societies, serving as president of the COS and the Louisiana Orthopaedic Association, and chaired the admissions committees for both the AAOS and AOA. He was awarded the J Elmer Nix Ethics Award by the COS in 2000; the Lifetime Achievement Award by the Tulane Medical Alumni Association in 2010 and LOA in 2015; and the Medical Role Model Award from Medical Association of Southeast Louisiana in 2024.

Raoul and Mari are the parents of five children, two of whom followed his footsteps into orthopaedic surgery. They are also devoted grandparents to 15 grandchildren, one of which is currently in medical school, and six great-grandchildren.

In proud recognition of a lifetime devoted to healing, teaching, and inspiring, the Clinical Orthopaedic Society presents Dr. Raoul P. Rodriguez with the Lifetime Achievement and Legacy Award. A visionary leader, cherished mentor, and past president of the Society, Dr. Rodriguez has shaped the field of orthopaedics not only through surgical innovation but through his enduring impact on generations of students, residents, and colleagues. His legacy is one of compassion, excellence, and steadfast dedication, a legacy that continues to guide and elevate the mission of our Society.
