Welcome from the President

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I am delighted to welcome our members, guests, and the other regional Society Presidents to beautiful Charleston, South Carolina and the 99th Annual Meeting of the Clinical Orthopaedic Society. Many thanks to our local hosts: Dr. James Mooney, Dr. Langdon Hartsock and Dr. Donald R. Johnson, III, for helping make this meeting possible.

This year we have three outstanding presidential lecturers: James A. Nunley II, MD, the J. Leonard Goldner Professor and Chair at Duke University is an international expert on foot and ankle trauma and its reconstruction; A. Lee Osterman, MD, Professor and Chair of Hand Surgery at Thomas Jefferson University, is renowned for his expertise in hand surgery and the acute and reconstructive management of upper extremity trauma; Chitranjan Ranawat, MD, Professor at Cornell, is recognized globally as a premier adult reconstructive surgeon. Dr. Ranawat will be honored as our Dr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Nix Ethics Award winner at the meeting.

Dr. Robert Peroutka and his committee have created an outstanding educational program involving all orthopaedic sub-specialties, with a special emphasis on upper and lower extremity trauma. The program provides 22.75 CME credits to our attendees.

This year we have initiated a special residents and fellows award, and we are fortunate to have residents and fellows from the seven orthopaedic programs in the Carolinas attending this meeting. This resident opportunity was made possible by our industry sponsors. In addition, we have scientific and technical exhibits which will be stimulating and educational.

When not attending the meeting, please take the opportunity to enjoy Charleston. Charleston, the second largest city in South Carolina, is one of the top tourist attractions in the United States and is known for its Southern hospitality. In fact, in 1995, America's most-published etiquette expert, Marjabelle Young Stewart, recognized Charleston as the "best-mannered" city in the U.S. Charleston offers wonderful attractions, fabulous restaurants and a multitude of outdoor and leisure activities.

Thank you for joining us at this meeting--we hope you benefit from the scientific program while taking advantage of all that Charleston and the Clinical Orthopaedic Society has to offer.

Sincerely,

L. Andrew Koman, MD

Mission & Audience

MEETING MISSION STATEMENT

The 2011 Annual Meeting of the Clinical Orthopaedic Society will offer participants a comprehensive review of orthopaedic conditions including joint arthroplasty, sports medicine, patient safety, trauma, foot and ankle, pediatric orthopaedics, arthroscopy hand and upper extremity surgery. Meeting attendees will review tried and true methods of diagnosis and treatments in addition to acquiring knowledge in the latest diagnostic and treatment techniques in each of these areas. COS program faculty for 2011 are experts in the orthopaedic sub-specialty topics represented and will be available to clinicians throughout the meeting. Dialogue and interaction between the audience and presenters will be highly encouraged.

Highlighting this year's program is a live patient presentation that will allow participants to view patient-physician interactions. This program is sponsored by the Clinical Orthopaedic Society for members and non-members, and has been designed to meet the needs of practicing orthopaedic surgeons.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Orthopaedic surgeons, orthopaedic residents, sports medicine physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, nurses, physical therapists, occupational therapists, trainers and other allied health personnel, epidemiologists, researchers, and all those involved with the care of patients with orthopaedic conditions will benefit from attending the 2011 Annual Meeting of the Clinical Orthopaedic Society.

This program is sponsored by and the speaker is presenting on behalf of Lilly USA, LLC. It is being presented consistent with FDA guidelines and is not approved for continuing education credit. Lunch will be provided for attendees of this program.

As of January 1, 2011, if you are a US medical doctor or doctor of osteopathy with an active state license number, the value of the meal that you receive when attending this program may be disclosed on Eli Lilly and Company's Physician Payment Registry as a transfer of value made to you by Lilly. As a result of enacted state regulations, food, beverage and/or meals will not be provided for healthcare professionals from the states of Minnesota, Massachusetts and Vermont. This medical presentation is intended only for invited healthcare professionals for whom the information to be presented is relevant to their practice. We regret that spouses or other guests cannot be accommodated.

OVERALL COURSE OBJECTIVES

Sports and Arthroscopy

Understand the latest trends and techniques in sports related surgery and arthroscopy and how they affect patient out-comes. Develop a plan for incorporating new techniques that may benefit patients in your practice.

Hand and Upper Extremity

Develop a comprehensive management plan for ligament injuries leading to an unstable wrist including, but not limited to, acute stabilization as well as the late reconstruction of the unstable wrist with advancing arthritis.

Pediatrics

Describe the clinical challenges in pediatric patients who require sports and tumor related surgery on future growth patterns and how potential problems can be prevented.

Arthroplasty

Describe the latest controversies in Total Joint Arthroplasty regarding implant design and surgical approaches and how you might incorporate recent advances in your practice.

Orthopaedic Trauma

Understand the outcomes in patients who sustain lower extremity injuries, and incorporate this information in to your practice when discussing outcomes with patients who have sustained open fractures of the lower extremity.

Patient Safety

Understand the greatest medical legal risks facing orthopaedic surgeons and institute measures in your practice to improve patient safety and minimize adverse outcomes.

ACCREDITATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and Clinical Orthopaedic Society. The American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons designates this live activity for a maximum of 22.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
